ABSTRACT

The word women entrepreneur is now a trend word in the global economy. Most the countries of the world are now developing by their women empowerment. Bangladesh is also rapidly going in this race. Nothing comes smoothly in our life without hard struggle. Women entrepreneur is the brand name of hard working. Now-a- days women are more concern rather than men in the career field. So, it would be the next revolution in the world economy. There is a huge number of women workers are work in the garments sector. They do hard work but do not get proper respect in the society. For that reason many of the workers do not lead a happy life. This thesis paper title with "Women entrepreneurship challenges and future scope in Bangladesh Garments industry" mainly highlights the actual challenges that the women workers face, that would be solution of the problem and if we can solve the problem then it would be the game changer impact in the national GDP. In this thesis there mainly discuss about in which problem mainly faces by the women. Many of our women are now actively works for their social respect and identity. They run small business for their economic change. If we train up them then it would be a good sign for our society as well as our country economy.

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background of the research:

As Bangladesh is an agricultural country, here majority of the working people are directly involved with agriculture. Besides this the rest of the population are involved in garments sector. And an interesting thing is that the number of majority workers are women. Their regardless contribution in this sector gives us a fame in the international arena. Not only in Asia but also the global market Bangladesh garments women workers are re known for their hard labor.

Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society. For that reason, they always keep remain behind. Here the majority number of workers are uneducated for that reason they don't get proper respect in their work field. Financial crisis, family support, lacking of proper knowledge they don't come forward. But the scenario would be the opposite if we properly train them. ([1] Afroze n.d.)Garments industry is the vital industry in our country. As majority of the workers are women here there would be a great chance to boost up them from workers to entrepreneur. If we reduce the difficulties from our society and gear up them to lead in the front then it would keep a great impact in our economy.

Women entrepreneurship is not an unknown word in our society. Many of the women of our society directly or indirectly involve with business. But the problem is that majority of them are doing their business in a non - professional. Most of them have lacking proper knowledge of business, market demand, marketing strategy etc. For that reason their business doesn't move so far. So, my motivation is focus if we properly train them, support them then majority of them will be biggest entrepreneur in the garments industry.

Now a days, Bangladesh govt. is taking necessary steps to boost up our women workers to women entrepreneur. If they take proper knowledge in the business field and then starting their business then it would be much helpful. If you upgrade women workers to women entrepreneurs then they can ensure their social respect and live their own life.

1.2 Problem statement:

Bangladesh is a country which have a lots of potential itself. Here majority of the people are farmers. So, the working level of the people of Bangladesh is very much high. People here earn their livelihood in a very poor way. Another things is that the majority workers are women specially in the garments sector. ([2] Ahmed K and 4(7):126. n.d.)If we properly train up them then they become the wealth of our country. The more produce women entrepreneur the more our GDP will be increase. It is matter of sorrow that most of the women workers are not educate. They don't have any basic idea about business, IT industry and so on. For that reason they do not move forward and can't contribute in the society. They also rejected from their family also. They do not get proper support from their friend and relatives also. In this thesis my main goal is to find out the actual challenges that faces by women entrepreneur. By analyzing the real life data from the entrepreneur we get some solution to solve this problem. If we can solve this problem then it would be more helpful for us.

We should respect their problems and try to solve them as early as possible. Govt. and bank support, IT support, family support are some of those supports that can improve women entrepreneur to go ahead. Many of the time they feel uncomfortable in their work. So if we can provide them a proper support then it would be more useful for the garments industry. Here in this paper i am actually trying to do a unique research. Women entrepreneurship is now growing up as a hot cake field to explore with. Many of our women are trying to improve their life style by progressing in the garments sector. Our govt. also try for the betterment of their daily life. ([3] Alam M Sayeed and Chaudhury A Nusrat n.d.)In the world, many of the countries are doing work on this concept. I hope if it is continuing then it would be a secure industry for the women. Women entrepreneur are the power house of an economy as well as the shark tank of an industry. So, if they get proper support than it would be helpful for our country as well as our GDP. People from all around the country are now realize the importance of women entrepreneurship. They are trying to support their partners as well as their family members. If this process is continuing then we get a better result from here. Garments sector is the most speaking sector in our country. It plays a vital rule not only our economy but also in the GDP. We can earn a lots of money by providing clothes and ready made products. The reputation of our cloth is master class. The fiber we use are very much soft and thin. For this reason the demand of our cloth is world famous.

1.3 Aim of the research:

Majority of the population are involved in garments sector. And an interesting things that the number of majority workers are women. Their regardless contribution in this sector gives us a fame in the international arena. Not only in Asia but also the global market Bangladesh garments women workers are re known for their hard labor. Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society. For that reason, they always keep remain behind. Here the majority number of workers are uneducated for that reason they don't get proper respect in their work field.

Financial crisis, family support, lacking of proper knowledge they don't come forward. But the scenario would be the opposite if we properly train them. As I am currently working in a govt. project it is very much possible for me to give focus in this sector. Bangladesh is a country which have resource and materials for the garments sector. The main resources for the garments sector is man power. In that case we easily use our women worker for the betterment of the garments industry. As garments sector is a vital sector for our economy here still now women not so much develop. In this thesis I mainly try to find out the challenges and solution to get a better result in this sector. The ration of women worker is greater than man worker in this industry. So it's a scope for them to go ahead. Another thing is keep in mind that the women don't have proper respect in their family and society. So, it's a chance for them to develop their life standard by doing the right training.IT skill is needed for them to survive in the new era of economy. If we apply more potential on this sector then it would be more helpful for our economy. We do not go further if our women remain behind. Govt. should take necessary steps to build up a comfort and safe zone for the women entrepreneur. The more we involved them into the industry the more it turns a good side. They always focus on their work sheet so that they can easily handle the situation in great way. They are trying to educate them the proper business track and also financially support them. Public awareness is very much important for this sector the more we involved them into the industry the more it turns a good side. They always focus on their work sheet so that they can easily handle the situation in great way. Medium enterprise also conduct deal in the same technique for their business purposes. Bank loan and govt. support should be raise here. So that they can invest more and more in their business and help in the economy.

1.4 Research methodology:

This paper aims to establish how to find out the challenges that faces by the women workers to become women entrepreneur special in garments sector. Here in this paper there focus on data analysis of women garments workers and their daily life difficulties by using various research methods of data analysis. Market data research for find out the future scope of the women entrepreneur special in garments sector. Some research methodology is used for detecting major problems and challenges of women entrepreneur of our country in the garments sector. My study is to showing the variation of problems parameter of women workers in the garments industry. This study using the market research of garments industry to select the solution form the others experts in that particular field. I hope this paper help the investor to think more deeply about the women entrepreneur and decide to financial support to them.

1.5 Research Outcome:

General Outcome: Medium enterprise also conduct deal in the same technique for their business purposes. Bank loan and govt. support should be raise here. So that they can invest more and more in their business. One thing should be keep in mind that the interest ration should be reduce for the entrepreneur. They deal not only in a country but also in a global platform. The profit that earned by them mainly divide into small share. For that reason the risk factor also reduce here in a great number of point. As a manager or a mother she always focus on the betterment of the company or the family. If we reduce the difficulties from our society and gear up them to lead in the front then it would keep a great impact in our economy.

2.3 Theoretical framework:

Women mainly lead two lives. One is family life and another is professional life. For that reason they always face problem to handle their work. In domestic roles she mainly deals with the family staff. On the other hand in her job or professional life she also plays a vital rule in the long run. As a manager or a mother she always focus on the betterment of the company or the family. . CHAPTER-3

CHALLENGES AND REAL LIFE SCENARIO

3.1 Introduction:

Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society. For that reason, they always keep remain behind. Here the majority number of workers are uneducated for that reason they don't get proper respect in their work field. Financial crisis, family support, lacking of proper knowledge they don't come forward. But the scenario would be the opposite if we properly train them.

Garments industry is the vital industry in our country. ([9] Brush CG and 24(1-2):1-6. n.d.) As majority of the workers are women here there would be a great chance to boost up them from workers to entrepreneur. If we reduce the difficulties from our society and gear up them to lead in the front then it would keep a great impact in our economy.

Women entrepreneurship is not an unknown word in our society. Many of the women of our society directly or indirectly involve with business. But the problem is that majority of them are doing their business in a non - professional. Most of them have lacking proper knowledge of business, market demand, marketing strategy etc. For that reason their business doesn't move so far.

5.2 Data analysis progress report:

By analyzing the real life data from the entrepreneur we get some solution to solve this problem. If we can solve this problem then it would be more helpful for us. We should respect their problems and try to solve them as early as possible. Govt. and bank support, IT support, family support are some of those supports that can improve women entrepreneur to go ahead. My study is to showing the variation of problems parameter of women workers in the garments industry.

This study using the market research of garments industry to select the solution form the others experts in that particular field. ([16] Solymossy E n.d.) I hope this paper help the investor to think more deeply about the women entrepreneur and decide to financial support to them. If we apply more potential on this sector then it would be more helpful for our economy. We do not go further if our women remain behind. Govt. should take necessary steps to build up a comfort and safe zone for the women entrepreneur. The more we involved them into the industry the more it turns a good side. Many of the time they feel uncomfortable in their work. So if we can provide them a proper support then it would be more useful for the garments industry. Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society.

For that reason, they always keep remain behind. Here the majority number of worker is uneducated for that reason they don't get proper respect in their work field. Financial crisis, family support, lacking of proper knowledge they don't come forward. But the scenario would be the opposite if we properly train them. Garments industry is the vital industry in our country. As majority of the workers are women here there would be a great chance to boost up them from workers to entrepreneur. From the survey we can see the women impact in our society. The more we support them the more our future generation would be much winner. Although women entrepreneurship is a new trend it gets very much response from the root level. Our main goal is to turn over our women workers into women entrepreneur. The more we produce women entrepreneur the more we get benefit from it.

I do not go further if our women remain behind. Govt. should take necessary steps to build up a comfort and safe zone for the women entrepreneur. The more we involved them into the industry the more it turns a good side. Many of the time they feel uncomfortable in their work. If we can do so then it would be more beneficial for us to survive in the near future. Most of us do not know how hard work done by our women entrepreneur for their daily life.

Threats:

Financial support, family support, social status all of these must be given to them for better service. Now-a-days many of our women start their own venture. If you provide them bank loan and IT support then it would be more beneficial to them. Many international and national garments fair also need to conduct.IT training also needed to empower them. Young women come forward for their own identity. So, it's our duty to give them a proper respect in their working field of women entrepreneurship .If you provide all of these then it would be a game changer chance not only for them but also for us. Our national economy needs more and more from our women entrepreneur.

Young women come forward for their own identity. So, it's our duty to give them a proper respect in their working field of women entrepreneurship .If you provide all of these then it would be a game changer chance not only for them but also for us. Our national economy needs more and more from our women entrepreneur. The more we provide them the more we get from them. Some NGO also plays a vital rule in this sector. They mainly provide loan to the women entrepreneur to build up their better career. If we can overcome this issue then it would be a best option to deal with the new trend. Many of our young garments workers are sufferings from this in a high ratio .This threats cost a lot to our global economy.

5.4 Decision making:

Most the countries of the world are now developing by their women empowerment. Bangladesh is also rapidly going in this race. ([17] Smith R and 19(4):364-86 n.d.) Nothing comes smoothly in our life without hard struggle. Women entrepreneur is the brand name of hard working. Now-a- days women are more concern rather than men in the career field. So, it would be the next revolution in the world economy. There is a huge number of women workers are work in the garments sector. They do hard work but do not get proper respect in the society. For that reason many of the workers do not lead a happy life. This thesis paper title with "Women entrepreneurship challenges and future scope in Bangladesh Garments industry" mainly highlights the actual challenges that the women workers face, that would be solution of the problem and if we can solve the problem then it would be the game changer impact in the national GDP. (2012 and 4(1):18-29. n.d.) In this thesis there mainly discuss about in which problem mainly faces by the women. Many of our women are now actively works for their social respect and identity. They run small business for their economic change. If we train up them then it would be a good sign for our society as well as our country economy.

Young women come forward for their own identity. So, it's our duty to give them a proper respect in their working field of women entrepreneurship .If you provide all of these then it would be a game changer chance not only for them but also for us. Our national economy needs more and more from our women entrepreneur. Besides this the rest of the population are involved in garments sector and an interesting things that the number of majority workers are women. Their regardless contribution in this sector gives us fame in the international arena. Not only in Asia but also the global market Bangladesh garments women workers are re known for their hard labor.

Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society. For that reason, they always keep remain behind. Here the majority number of workers is uneducated for that reason they don't get proper respect in their work field. Financial crisis, family support, lacking of proper knowledge they don't come forward. But the scenario would be the opposite if we properly train them.

5.5 Public awareness create:

([21] Tajeddini K and 31:52-8. n.d.) Women entrepreneurship is not an unknown word in our society. Many of the women of our society directly or indirectly involve with business. But the problem is that majority of them are doing their business in a non - professional. Most of them have lacking proper knowledge of business, market demand, marketing strategy etc. For that reason their business doesn't move so far. So, my motivation is focus if we properly train them, support them then majority of them will be biggest entrepreneur in the garments industry.

Now-a-days, Bangladesh govt. is taking necessary steps to boost up our women workers to women entrepreneur. If they take proper knowledge in the business field and then starting their business then it would be much helpful. If you upgrade women workers to women entrepreneurs then they can ensure their social respect and live their own life.

5.6 Increase women entrepreneur facilities:

Bangladesh govt. is taking necessary steps to boost up our women workers to women entrepreneur. If they take proper knowledge in the business field and then starting their business then it would be much helpful. If you upgrade women workers to women entrepreneurs then they can ensure their social respect and live their own life.

So, by this paper I have tried my best to detect the challenges that they face and find some solution to upgrade their life. Besides govt. there are some non govt. organization is working in this arena. They are trying to educate them the proper business track and also financially support them. Public awareness is very much important for this sector. ([22] Verheul I and 18(2):151-83. n.d.) If we provide more support to them can work in a great swing. Always try to focus on the point of problems. If we clear detect the problem then the result would be more helpful. The main things that we focus on is support system. The more we support them the more we get benefited. Our govt. is trying to support them for their better life style. It is very important to increase women entrepreneur facilities. Women are facing a lot of problems in their work life. If we provide them more facilities then we can get more output from this sector. Their regardless contribution in this sector gives us a fame in the international arena. Not only in Asia but also the global market Bangladesh garments women workers are re known for their hard labor. Though majority of the workers in the garments industry are women, they don't get proper respect not only in their family but also in the society. For that reason, they always keep remain behind.

5.7 Conclusion:

As majority of the workers are women here there would be a great chance to boost up them from workers to entrepreneur. If we reduce the difficulties from our society and gear up them to lead in the front then it would keep a great impact in our economy.

Women entrepreneurship is not an unknown word in our society. Many of the women of our society directly or indirectly involve with business. Public awareness is very much important for this sector. CONCLUSION AND FUTURE WORK

6.1 Conclusion:

In this paper an aim is being formed to establish how to find out the challenges that faces by the women workers to become women entrepreneur special in garments sector. Here in this paper there focus on data analysis of women garments workers and their daily life difficulties by using various research methods of data analysis. Market data research for find out the future scope of the women entrepreneur special in garments sector. Some research methodology is used for detecting major problems and challenges of women entrepreneur of our country in the garments sector. My study is to showing the variation of problems parameter of women workers in the garments industry.

This study using the market research of garments industry to select the solution form the others experts in that particular field. I hope this paper help the investor to think more deeply about the women entrepreneur and decide to financial support to them. 6.2 Future suggestedwork:

As Bangladesh is an agricultural country, here majority of the working people are directly involved with agriculture. Besides this the rest of the population are involved in garments sector. And an interesting things that the number of majority workers are women. Their regardless contribution in this sector gives us a fame in the international arena. Not only in Asia but also the global market Bangladesh garments women workers are re known for their hard labor.
