CHAPTER 2

BACKGROUND STUDY

2.1 Introduction

Home and food management system is a website. This chapter describe the related works, comparative studies, scope of the problem and challenges.

2.2 Related Work

There are many website all over the world. Particularly if we talk about our country we have many website. There are some website exists in market like home management system, home rental system, house rental system. My project different from them because my project have any other option and user friendly.

2.3 Comparative Studies

There are some website on this type but our website different from them because home management or home rental service help the user only find out home, apartment or flat. But my project help the user to find out home and also find out nearest food shop and food hotel. My specially designed for this people who are new and can't added any other social media group.

2.4 Scope of the problem

There are as many disadvantages as there are advantages to a system. This project may be inconsistent with many obstacles such as lack of secondary data availability Problems if the server is down. Additional secondary data may take longer. Since it depends on electricity, it will work if you do not have electricity and internet.

2.5 Challenges

Home and food management system is a simple website and by this website I help many people. In this time to find out rental room is very tough and boring. Specially students who are new and who are shifted their home they faced many problem that's why their education is hampered. When I build up this system I faced many problem. Information synchronization which set aside a long effort to design, was the most testing part. Moreover I testing a structuring database for the entire framework. The test was too tough working with ongoing information. I faced with a few bug issues while I coding

4.4 Implementation Requirements

Propose:

To implement this system is needed to help the people and reach out to them. And creating a general view of the needs and requirements of analysis for any situation determining the operation of entire system.

Scope:

The general document is to play a role in the development process life cycle needs and to help people .It was originally created for the purpose of user and the method by which it will be tested will be the original concept. This system includes any changes required. If you want to make any change, you have to go through the process of approving the future formal change

IMPLEMENTATION AND TESTING

5.1 Implementation of Database

All database are maintained for this web applications. The system sorted by user activity and admin activities. Which table user and the admin will have and what type of activities they will have are all hosted on the database c server panel. User login next activities and admin login next activities the database has been created keeping in mind all the functions.

5.2 Implementation of Front-end Design and Back-end Design

First we need to determine what kind of programming language and what technology we can use to implement this type of website. Since we worked on the front-end and back-end we have use the following languages and frames:

=>Front-end

->HTML:

HTML is a tag-based language used to development of web pages. It's a hypertext markup language,. Hypertext means that web pages are linked together. Webpage browsers retrieve HTML archives from the web server and describe what the layout of the HTML archive should look like.

->Bootstrap

Bootstrap is used when the computer system is turned on. Bootstrap is the first code use to work on the entire operating system and to load the system. This allows the program to locate the operating system kernel, load the file into memory, and start its execution. This is the library of HTML JavaScript that enhances the database. It is used in the color, shape and outlet design of web application. In this project we use it for front-end design and frame work.

->CSS

Cascading style sheet (CSS) is a computer programming language. It's a style sheet language. Its' used for to describe the gratuity of a document writing like extra language like HTML. CSS is usually used for design, layout, color setting, and background designing. Although we used bootstrap to design our web application, but we needed to use custom CSS to customize the design part.

=>Back-end Design

->PHP

PHP is a programming language. It is used to manage dynamic content, build a database, e-commerce site. PHP used for different developing web based software applications.

->MySQL

MySQL is a relational database management system based on SQL – Structured Query Language. MySQL is one of the best ways to update web based software applications in DBMS. This application used for a variety of purpose, including data storage, e commerce and login applications.

5.3 Testing implementation

The first things of the testing process is to identify the all errors and defect of the web applications site. Testing provides a practical way to reduce website errors and increase user confidence in a single advance system. It is not practical to test the web application site for every value that can predict the input requested by data. If the program fails the test results, the conditions under which it failed are specified for further correction.

->Process

1. Login: In this system username and password will be provide only for security on this system and only those who have authorization on the system will be able to see and know the all the information.

2. User registration, login and activity:

At first user login the system but if they have no accounts then first sign up and registration and then login the site. Then they can post a house and see the posted housed and they can massage admin, post testimonial, change their password and subscribe the site,

3. Admin login and activity:

At first admin login the site then admin post a house see user activity and see user massage, see subscriber, admin change her information, admin active user testimonial, approve house, delete user information, delete house which is rented.

5.4 Test cases design and results

Test case name	Purpose	Precondition	Test steps	Expected result
Registration and login for user	Enable customer to resister and login into system before booking	Customer has valid email id	Click register button required name, mail id and phone number	customer will be register in the system
View house details	Enable customer to view details to listed house	Customer login in the system	click view details to see the listed house.	See details of the listede house.
Admin login	Enable admin to login the site	Given user name and password	Click the login button	Admin login the site

Testing all activity which is control admin	Admin enable to test the all activity	Admin login the site first	Click every button step by step	Admin test the all activity
User logout	Enable user to log out of the system	User log in the system	Click the log out button	User will be log out
Change password	enable to user to change the password	Exists in the site	First click change password the give the recent password then give the new password	The password will be changed
Post house	Enable admin and user to post a house	Login in the site	Input house details and picture	The house will be post
Update house details	Enable admin to update house details	Login in the site	Click the manage house option then change the details then update the details	The house details will be update
Search rent record	Enable user to search the house	Login the site	Click the search button and search the rented house	The matching rented house will be show in site

Display user report	Enable admin to view the user report	Login the site	Select view user report	User report will be displayed
Admin log out	Enable admin to log out the site	Exits and log in the site	Click the log out button	The admin will be log out the site.

CHAPTER 6

CONCLUSION AND FUTURE SCOPE

6.1 Discussion and Conclusion

Discussion: Finding a rental home is becoming a challenge for us day by day. And those who are new in Dhaka and no added any social media group finding a home is very difficult for them. And there is no end to the trouble of finding a home for students. They have a lot of trouble moving and finding a home. If it is in the middle of the semester, then there is no end to the problem. This is a great loss to their education. So by creating this system of mine they will be able to find a home very easily. In this system the user will be able to post the house himself and send a message to the admin to talk about the house. Moreover the admin will approve the users uploaded home. In this system both the renter and the landlord are users.

Conclusions:

Home and food management system is a new website compared to the past. Before everything was limited to physical positions but now it is becoming virtual day by day. Although the physical condition has not been completely eradicated. In addition to showing how the functions have been added to this system, it also shows how the internet work. Nowadays user can rent a house online and rent a house without any hassle by becoming a registered member of the system. In this system, to fill up user needs with just a click of a button.

6.2 Scope of the further development:

Scope of the further development means how it can be improve further. Since my project is home and food management system, its food management system can be further improved. In this system to use location tracker to find food shop easily

6.3 Brief Description:

In this project I'm using many things which are related to the virtual world. Day by day we depend on the internet and the virtual world. So I built up this site to help the people who are busy with their work. People can get free time to find out rental houses for them and who are new in the city they can't find a house because of communication problems and did not add any social media like Facebook groups that's why it's a very big problem for them. In my system they can easily find out rental homes and the nearest food shop or food hotel. They can contact the admin to face any problem. In this system the user uploads a home then the admin approves it and also the admin uploads a home. The admin can edit, delete house information. The user can delete a user who breaks the rules. It is a really helpful system for people, especially students.
