Abstract

Online class observation and online class conduction is the aim of this internship project. To find out the way how teachers conduct online classes and how students observe the classes during the Covid-19 pandemic. For the past year and a half, Private Universities and English Medium Schools and Colleges have survived online for a certain period due to Covid-19. Conducting the research, I have observed two online classes of the University level in a reputed Private University through Google meet and I have also conducted one class in that university for this research project. Teachers conduct classes through Google Meet or Google Zoom. Teachers give students a code through that class's messenger group, so that they can join the same classroom. Teachers give the students worksheets, PowerPoint slides, Docx files, exercises and videos related to their lesson. During the research, I have found some limitations of online classes such as concentration breaks, network issues, communication gaps etc. but the teachers tried their best to provide the online teaching service to the students to improve their particular skills. I have given some recommendations and findings based on observations and conducting online class research.

Chapter 1

Introduction

Nowadays our world is going through a hard situation because of Covid-19 pandemic. Lockdown, quarantine, isolation, death are very common words currently. Since the case of Coronavirus infection was first diagnosed in early March 2020, the Bangladesh Government announced the collapse of all educational institutions from 17th March to 31st March, 2020 as part of a lockdown to prevent the spread of Coronavirus (TBS Report, 2020). Due to the number of detected cases, the government extended its lockdown system several times. However, Education cannot be stopped because it is our basic need. The University Grants Commission of Bangladesh (UGC) and The Ministry of Education (MOE) officially allowed all private universities to continue online classes and conduct online examinations (Abdullah, 2020). At that moment many universities started continuing their learning and teaching process online but not all. They conduct online classes through a learning management system where students are able to view their course overview, course syllabus, feedback, presentation, assignment and can also communicate with course instructors. Teachers give the students work on BLC, Google file, Google classroom and give a certain deadline so that students can complete their work before the deadline. If they cannot submit it due time, later they cannot attempt again. Online examination is also held through this process.

Learning English is mandatory for everyone in Bangladesh. English as a foreign language in Bangladesh and English language is also an international medium of communication in the world. In Bangladesh, most of the children start to learn English from playgroups and it is also a compulsory subject from the first day at school to higher secondary level. For this reason, the feedback should have been better. Unfortunately, their learning feedback is not as expected. Although they spend about twelve to fourteen years of their lives in learning English. Moreover, at the undergraduate level there are many students who do not have basic knowledge of English grammar and language. They pass all classes through poor English skills. This condition is common in almost all Educational institutions in Bangladesh.

The government has taken many initiatives to make education effective. The government has provided training to teachers, provided electronic devices such as computers, projectors, sound systems, informative books etc. In this pandemic situation, the government has also taken initiative to take online classes. These initiatives did not work properly. Although Many Institutions have shown their success in taking online classes. They use Google Meet, Skype, Facebook, WhatsApp to conduct online classes. In this pandemic they have tried to keep their Education system active. Unfortunately, some institutions are still lagging behind. They are not able to conduct online classes. Because many teachers do not have the proper knowledge to take online classes even they do not know how to create an online class. Moreover, there are also some older teachers who have not any knowledge on modern technology. They cannot use computers, multimedia, or sound systems. Consequently, many students are being deprived of online education during the pandemic.

A university has been selected which is Daffodil International University. Here I observed two online classes and took one online class. During the class observation a checklist was provided by the supervisor which I used for evaluating the teaching techniques and performance of the teachers and the output of the students. After observing the class, I have found some problems. To overcome those problems some instructions had given which would help the students to learn the English language in an appropriate way and conduct the class exactly.

Chapter: 2

Objectives

1. To know the current situation of online classroom teaching and learning in Bangladesh.
2. To find out the effects of using technical material on the students in the online classrooms.
3. To know about the advantages and disadvantages of online class conducting and learning in English.
4. To find out the actual scenario of student's comfort of learning online education.

Chapter: 3

Methodology

- I. Selecting Institution: Daffodil International University is chosen for the project paper. Because of Covid-19 pandemic, my supervisor has recommended me to take a class in this institution.
- II. Selecting class: One class was selected for observation from a different batch in a different department and another class was selected from our peer teaching group, where one of my classmates arranged a class of university level students. My supervisor helped me to select the classes for observation.
- III. Observing class: I observed two classes in that university. Here I observed that, how a teacher taught the students, how a teacher controlled all students, how a teacher kept students focused on the classes, how a teacher conducted online classes by using technical materials.
- IV. Using checklist: During the online class observation, I used this checklist to gather information.
- V. Conducting a class: I conducted a class with the help of facilitator. While conducting the class, I understood the overall situation. My class time was 15 minutes. I provided the class materials to the students by using a PowerPoint slide.

Teaching Experience

Teachers Name: Taeba Akter
Name of Institution: Daffodil International University
Lesson Title: Classification of sentence
Date and Time of Observation: 18 th July (5.15 PM -5.30 PM), 2021

Classroom Description:

Class Medium: Online through Google Meet
Teaching Aids: PowerPoint slide
Class Recording Link: https://drive.google.com/file/d/1P1OrJEcWezFa7YJ2Z8awO3WBVqJxnVNT/view?usp=drive_sdk

Students Information:

Academic Level of Students: Pre-intermediate
Number of Students: 18
Average Age of Students: 21-22
Language Used in Classroom: English

Lesson Objects: The lesson objectives of the class were to teach the identification of different types of sentence according to structure.

Teaching Details:

The topic of teaching was about the basic ideas of Sentence. At the very beginning of the class, the teacher greeted the students and gave lesson objectives. Then the teacher opened a PowerPoint slide and the first two minutes gave the students the primary idea about the definition of sentences. After that she also taught them to identify the subject and predicate from the sentence. However, giving the basic information, the teacher discussed with the students about the classification of sentences according to structure. The teacher taught the topic to the students with examples and described the structure in a very clear way. Although these four types of sentences are simple, compound, complex and compound-complex tough topics but the teacher finished the topic very interestingly. Because her class materials were organized and clear. Students enjoyed her class very much. After completing every single type of sentence, the teacher asked the student to identify a specific sentence from the worksheet. Almost all of the students tried to give their feedback which was very positive. After that, the teacher finished the class by praising them.

Success in Teaching:

1. The students got a clear concept and a clear briefing about the lesson.
2. The students were very friendly with the teacher.
3. The response from the students was remarkable.

Scope for Improvement:

1. Sometimes the interaction was interrupted due to internet problems.
2. The teacher could not manage the class time properly.

Chapter 7

Overall Findings

I have observed two classes and one class has been taken. I have found a few things that are given below:

1. Subject matter content: Teachers had good knowledge about the topic. They encouraged and inspired students to ask questions and had patience in answering the questions.

2. Classroom environment: Due to the COVID -19 pandemic, all educational institutions were off, though private universities arranged online classrooms. It was fortunate for the students. But I believe that university's green environment classes would be much better than online classes.

3. Lesson delivery: Teachers spoke fluently and clearly which helped the students to understand the lesson properly. Both teachers used PowerPoint slide and Docx files for teaching a lesson. The teachers spoke Bangla and English, both languages.

4. Teaching activities: Both teachers tried to engage the students in-class activities.

5. Network issues: Teachers were more careful about their network issues.

6. Advantages of online classes: The main advantage is that, students can connect from different places. Teachers also can conduct classes at any place. Teachers and students can express their learning outcomes, perception, ideas, and thoughts without physical gathering. Another advantage is the opportunity of class recording. If any student is unable to attend the class or cannot concentrate in the class due to network issues, later they can listen the class recordings.

7. Disadvantages of online classes: Online classes also have many disadvantages. Many students live in the village sites. Sometimes they cannot join the classes because of network problems. Sometimes teachers also cannot conduct class properly and stay disconnected from the class again and again because of network issues. As a result, students' concentration breaks down and they are unable to concentrate in class later. Moreover, many students and teachers are not proficient in current technology so they face many problems during the online examinations. Sometimes they are unable to submit their answer sheets.

Findings from Conducted class

What was my purpose:

I wanted to give the students distinct and basic ideas on my teaching topic. I tried to make the class interesting and ensure their participation. Unfortunately, students do not pay attention to online classes. I tried to give them classwork and most of the time I tried to keep them focus in class.

Difficulties I faced:

It was really difficult for me to finish everything in such a short time. I was not able to complete the lesson properly.

Chapter 8

Recommendation

- 1. It is still not possible to conduct hundred percent online classes in Bangladesh because they do not have enough internet facilities. Internet facilities are not the same in everywhere. Moreover, internet facilities are too expensive in an underdeveloped country like Bangladesh. So, students are not getting the opportunities due to internet problems.

- 2. The university authorities need to consider the duration of online classes. If the duration of class is fifty minutes to sixty minutes then it will be convenient for students to pay attention in class.

- 3. Teachers and Students need more training on online technology, online teaching activities and online materials.

- 4. In English language teaching classes, the teacher should speak in English and the students should be encouraged to speak in English.

- 5. Ensuring the presence of every student in the online class.

- 6. Teachers need to be aware of network issues.

- 7. Reading materials should be improved as the classes are hold online nowadays. Reading materials should be adapted in that way and the government can take initiatives in that way.

- 8. Students should be encouraged to ask questions to the teacher.

Chapter 9

Conclusion

As a researcher, this project paper has been really an amazing and knowledgeable experience for me. I had the precious opportunity of exploring a sea of information regarding online class while creating this internship paper. The utmost development of online class is much needed in this pandemic situation. I have observed two online classes and conducted a class. After observing and conducting the class, I have seen the pros and cons of online class, especially in the context of Bangladesh. There is a lack of qualified teachers in the English language teaching. Moreover, students do not get proper guidelines from the beginning of their learning. The education system of the country has a great effect in this regard. As a result, their skills in English is not good enough, although they have learned English in schools and colleges for several years. The scenario has become even harder in online classes where a significant number of students and teachers do not have proper access to internet and necessary equipment for conducting class. In addition to that, most students and teachers are still at a loss in conducting productive and effective online class. This project paper solely targets on developing English language teaching online by enhancing both students and teacher's collaboration and mutual understanding. Some recommendations have been added which figures out possible areas yet to be addressed in order to improve online education system. This research paper will hopefully contribute at least a little in improving and broadening English language teaching online and will be beneficial for students and teachers of categories.
